Brian:

I eventually succeeded in speaking to an official at the United States Patent and Trademark Office today about this application, and was informed that a first action would be issued within three months of today.

If this eventually occurs, it will have taken 21/2 years from the filing of this application, which is a delay substantially longer than has occurred in the past.

I believe this reflects the backlog of work that has built up down there

Anyway, I will notify you as soon as I have further news.

Kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

Brian M. Long
